

If you....

- Believe that it's not right for so many of us to be struggling with the basics
- Agree that we have human rights and need to fight for them
- Care about Pennsylvania
- Want to build a movement across race, region, religion and language
- Want to build something from the ground-up
- Have time to attend biweekly meetings in your area

You should join a committee!

Together, we will:

- Build our membership, county-by-county.
- Connect and learn through local and statewide strategy meetings, trainings, and study groups.
- Coordinate local action with the other committees.
- Gain support and skills to become more powerful leaders
- Fight and win state-wide campaigns!

Our Strategy

In 2008, the Vermont Workers' Center launched a campaign for universal healthcare. They built local organizing committees all over the state, who educated themselves and forced legislators and candidates to listen to their stories. In 2011, the legislature passed the VWC's bill! Now they are expanding to gain all their rights, and other states are trying their model.

PF-PA is organizing into similar committees, and we need you!

Put People First!

PENNSYLVANIA

Working together for human rights at home

Something is wrong...

Most of us are struggling to have a safe home, put food on the table, care for our kids, stay healthy, and get educated. We live in a world of abundance, but most people can't afford to cover all the necessities.

These basic needs are our human rights. We can't live without them, so why must we work so hard just to survive?

It's not our fault. There are far too many of us hurting to have all been struck by bad luck, mistakes or character flaws. The government and the economy are structured so that we struggle while the rich get richer.

and we can fix it!

Regular Pennsylvanians have one big advantage over lobbyists and politicians: our numbers. Organized and united, we can secure our human rights, and stay together to make sure we don't lose them again.

Put People First! PA has a strategy. We are building a movement to ensure a system that works for us. We won't let fear of others stop us. We won't be divided by age, race, faith, politics, geography, ability, gender, or sexuality.

We are starting Organizing Committees in towns and neighborhoods all over the state. We will tell the truth about our lives and struggles, educate ourselves on strategy and history, and force powerful people to put us and our human rights first!
